To correlate education with life thru a practical system of instruction and development involving business, industry and ethical, economic and civic relations, so that the school shall be a reproduction of life, and life a continuation of the school, is the next step in educational evolution and development. Every school from the kindergarten to the university should be associated with the office, shop, factory, studio, farm, orchard and garden, in both a theoretical and practical maner; every industrial and commercial institution should have its educational department for the technical, intellectual and social improvement of its employes, and every community--yes, every school district--should have its civic institute for the study, discussion and practical consideration of every question of specific or general civic or community welfare. For purposes of the Institutional School, every school house and building, church...

Reviews

A new e book with a brand new standpoint. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. I discovered this ebook from my i and dad advised this publication to understand.
